

SU Art Workshops for Young People

Greetings! My name is Patrice Gonzales and I am an Art Education graduate student at Syracuse University. I grew up in Cazenovia, New York and studied Art Photography at Syracuse in undergrad. I have included a sample of my work below. I had a great experience in the program and was a tour guide for the College of Visual and Performing Arts. At SU, I worked at the Syracuse University Art Galleries and it was my experience at the gallery that inspired me to pursue a career in fine art galleries. After graduation in 2015, I moved to Brooklyn and began working as a Preparator and later as a Registrar. When the owner of the gallery closed to pursue a position at a prestigious gallery, this caused me to take pause and to reevaluate my career. What did I need to feel fulfilled in role? This led me to return to Syracuse and pursue Art Education. I am excited to bring my experience from working in galleries and as a practicing artist into the classroom to share with students.
